

American Institute of Wine & Food

Established in 1981 by the late Julia Child, the late Robert Mondavi and others, AIWF provides a forum for the study and enjoyment of gastronomy. Located in Napa, California, AIWF is a national organization of professionals and enthusiasts dedicated to enhancing the quality of life by providing education about what we eat and drink.

AIWF is committed to promoting health and well-being through the enjoyment of good food, drink and fellowship that comes from dining together around the table.